BARROW, FURNESS AND WESTMORLAND SOCIETY

FOR THE BLIND.

TWENTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT,

31st March, 1945.

We have pleasure in presenting this, the 23rd Annual Report, which covers a period of intense activity—not only in Blind Welfare, but also in Local, National and International affairs. The end of World War No. II, the General Election, and the introduction of new Social legislation and its probable effect on the administration of Blind Welfare have been, to the Blind, of considerable interest and concern. This applies particularly, of course, to the new plans for Insurance and Pensions contained in the Social Insurance and Allied Services Act which became law this year. Many meetings and discussions have taken place, including two with both local Members of Parliament, and the Blind Person's position has been put very fairly and frankly—but nevertheless, forcibly—by both Blind and Sighted representatives of the Society. The most recent indications seem to be that only those blind persons who have been insured before the onset of blindness will be dealt with under the present Act, and that those who are now non-contributory pensioners will receive the retirement pension of the new scheme, namely 26/- per week. Until the new scheme of National Assistance is in being, these pensions, if inadequate for the requirements of the blind, will continue to be supplemented by Local Authorities under the Blind Persons Acts (and not by way of Public Assistance). When, however, the new scheme of National Assistance is developed, all cash payments to those in need, including the blind, will be centralised in, and administered by, the Assistance Board.

Co-operation with all Local Authorities in the Society's area continues to be satisfactory and to the benefit of the Blind in our care.

HOME TEACHING AND VISITING. The work of the Home Teachers has been carried out in a very efficient manner, and many reports are received of their patience, sympathy and cheerfulness, all bearing testimony to the way their work is appreciated by the blind.

During the year Mrs. T. Holyoake—well-known by the blind for many years as Miss Preston—was appointed by the Westmorland County Council as Home Teacher for Administrative County Area. Shortly after her appointment Mrs. Holyoake took the Examination of the College of Teachers of the Blind and came out second on the list for all England, with Honours in five subjects.

Since the end of the war the supply of materials for Handicrafts is steadily improving, and the Classes in Barrow and Millom are becoming more active, also more instruction is being given to the Blind in their homes in simple crafts and in the hand-knitting of socks, stockings, scarves and dish-cloths, for which there is a large demand. Encouraged by the Home Teachers, the reading of Braille and Moon is being taken up by more blind people, and in Barrow a regular weekly class has been held throughout the winter.

It has not yet been possible to establish Centres for classes in Ulverston or Kendal owing to the difficulty of finding suitable accommodation, but no effort will be spared until such can be found. The value and usefulness of Occupation Centres has been proved beyond all doubt, and a great deal of information obtained at the Conferences of Home Teachers promoted by the Northern Counties' Association for the Blind.

HOME WORKERS AND TRAINEES. The number of Home Workers is now 9. Two Braille Copyists have had to cease work owing to ill-health, and one round machine knitter has been accepted into the Home Workers Scheme. Of the two men who were working in sighted industry during the war, one has returned to his former occupation as a piano tuner and one is still unemployed, though this is entirely due to lack of accommodation where a job was waiting for him. One young man training as a chair-seater continues to make satisfactory progress, and one man is completing his training as a switchboard operator and typist.

DISABLED PERSONS (EMPLOYMENT) ACT, 1944. All the Blind in the area coming within the age limit who are capable and willing to receive training have been urged to register as Disabled Persons under the above-named Act. A very large percentage have done so.

UNEMPLOYABLE NECESSITOUS BLIND. The amount of Domiciliary Assistance paid to the necessitous Blind and their Sighted dependants again shows an increase over the previous year. This is largely due to the increase under the Whitley Council awards—cost-of-living bonuses—to the Blind in the County Borough area. The attached scale shows the increases awarded since the scheme was approved by the Barrow Corporation in October, 1941. The Assistance Scale in Westmorland County area has been stationary at the figure for last year, i.e., 35/- for single persons, and 51/- for a married couple; while the Lancashire County Council has adopted and put into operation the National Assistance Board's Scale of allowances. On the average this scale works out at 30/- per week for a single blind person, with allowances for rent or house, coal, extra nourishments for invalids, etc., etc., and for sighted dependants of married men.

The Society has also continued to make large grants from its Voluntary Funds, amounting in all to £1,348 11s. 4d.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES. The end of the war in Europe was the signal for special celebrations for the Blind as for the Sighted members of the community. Outings were arranged and carried through from the four Centres, i.e., Barrow, Kendal, Millom and Ulverston. Thanks to the willing work of the various Committees of Lady Helpers, and the fascination which the Home Teachers exercised over the motor bus proprietors, there were ample supplies of food and excellent arrangements for transport. It was a great joy to the members of the Society, who were able to accompany the Blind on these outings, to see how the strain of war years lifted from the faces of those who, through lack of sight, had suffered special hardships, and there was peace and happiness and a deep thankfulness in the voices of old acquaintances, and in the delight of being able to move about freely once more.

Christmas parties, too, were more cheerful and well attended. This year a special one was arranged before Christmas, at Kirkby Lonsdale, for those who would be unable to travel to Kendal. It was a new venture which was crowned with success and many new sighted friends were made for the blind of that district through the contacts made on that occasion.

BARROW SOCIAL CENTRE. As mentioned earlier in this report, the practice of handicrafts has been hampered by the War, and the use of a number of substitute materials has been unavoidable. The pulp-cane class has been unable to function for the past three years, and this was a real loss, as those who took part in it found it both profitable and congenial activity. It is earnestly hoped that supplies of this material will soon be available.

Notwithstanding the difficulties of the present day, social activities have shown a marked return towards normality. Mr. W. J. Hackett, in his post as Social Hon. Secretary, has carried out the arduous duties of that office with conspicuous success. During the summer a number of rambles were arranged, the Coast Road and Newton being the most highly favoured ground.

On most Tuesday afternoons a speaker or a concert party willingly gave their services. There was a special social event held in the Lyceum Hall during March, to which members of the Society were cordially invited. All the entertainment was carried out by the Blind themselves; it was a noteworthy occasion.

A class in Braille reading and writing was started in July, 1945. The class is held weekly, and consists of eight members, and, in most cases, slow but steady progress has been achieved. Another development which should not be overlooked is an informal gathering which meets at frequent intervals to acquire a taste for good music through the medium of gramophone records. Some idea of the nature of these programmes can be gathered when it is realised that the composers represented include Brahms, Beethoven, Schubert, Greig and others. This venture is undoubtedly supplying a need, though its appeal will necessarily be limited.

WIRELESS. This service has been continued and extended, and is greatly appreciated, particularly by the newly registered blind who live in country districts. The cost to the Society this year was £141 17s. 6d., a decrease on last year of £8 9s. 8d.

SUBSCRIPTIONS AND COLLECTIONS. It was with regret that the Society learned in May last of Mr. S. J. Carbis's decision to retire from his position as Collections Organiser, a post he had filled with unqualified success for many years, first with the National Institute for the Blind, and later—from 1928—with the Society. At a meeting of the Committee in June, 1945, the Chairman, Alderman J. Brazinton, presented Mr. Carbis with a cheque as a mark of the Society's appreciation of his long and faithful service, and said that whilst being sorry to say goodbye to Mr. Carbis it was pleasant to feel that he was retiring in good health and would be able to enjoy some measure of activity, and, possibly, service in his retirement.

Mr. Harold Ashburner, who had been understudy to Mr. Carbis for a period of three months, was appointed Collections Organiser as from the 1st June, 1945. A further appointment as Collections Organiser is under consideration for the area of South Westmorland, and Mr. J. Berisford, 28, Spital Park, Kendal, was given a few weeks' trial in this post until the end of the current financial year. It is probable that this appointment will be confirmed for the coming year.

For various reasons the income from Collections shows a decrease in last year. This was not unexpected, as last year's amount was a record one. It is hoped that the coming year will see this matter rectified and the income from voluntary sources restored to its previous high level.

SALES DEPOT. The returns in this department also reflect the difficulty encountered in obtaining supplies of raw materials, but the year's working has been quite satisfactory. There is always a large demand for the goods made by our Blind workers and for those we obtain from Blind Workshops in the Northern area.

THANKS. This Report of the Society's work would not be complete without an expression of thanks to all who have contributed to the happiness and welfare of the Blind during the year. We desire to record our grateful thanks to all subscribers and voluntary helpers, contributors and collectors, to the speakers, artistes and organisers of concerts, members of Rotary Clubs, Police, Bus Conductors, and especially the Ladies of the Voluntary Committee, who have been unceasing in their efforts to make all the social side such a gratifying success.
